HOME COMING CELEBRATION ENJOYABLE EVENT

Hundreds of Service Men Entertained With Program That Included a Public Meeting, Parade, Banquet Football Game and Dance

Message of Welcome

THE Burgess of Smethport is speaking for the entire community in attempting to express our appreciation of the service our boys have rendered. It is only an attempt. Our appreciation can never be expressed, for these services were inevitable. In the interest of humanity, for the peace of the world, these boys gave their time and their energies, and stood ready to make the great sacrifice, the sacrifice of their lives, that our property, our wives and our children, and our own lives, might be safe. All honor to these boys! Their task is done, but ours remains! Words that we may say here can not show them our appreciation. If we may show it at all it will be in the deeds we do to uphold the principles for which they fought. They have won the war. Let us keep it won. They have made our land safe from the enemy without; our task is to make it safe from the enemy within our borders. Let us stand for Americanism. Let us work hand in hand with every man and every party and every principle that promotes Americanism, and let us face as a mortal enemy every man and every party and every principle that hinders Americanism. In the language of a great Republican, which has been endorsed by great Democrats, let us stand for but one flag, and that the stars and stripes; for but one language, and that the language of the Declaration of Independence; for but one loyalty, and that the loyalty to the American people. Only in this way may we show our boys that we appreciate the victory they won, and that we are worthy of the sacrifice they made.

WARLEY GIFFORD,
Burgess of Smeth.

Smethport, Pa.
Nov. 11, 1919.

Smethport welcomed home its service men as well as those from Keating, Norwich and Sergeant townships, Tuesday, Nov. 11, the first anniversary of Armistice Day. Fully 75 service men in uniform were present on this long to be remembered occasion and the various committees spared no pains to see that plans were carried out to the satisfaction of the soldiers and there is no question but that the boys felt the sincerity and warmth of the community's regard and thankfulness that so great a number came home to us alive, many uninjured, and that the death list was no more extensive. The spirit of a joyous thanksgiving prevailed the day.

Members of the G. A. R. and Spanish War Veterans were also guests of the community and participated in the festivities of the day.

Following a proclamation of Burgess Warley Gifford, business was practically suspended Tuesday noon and the citizens in general devoted the afternoon to greeting the service men. The first public event of the day was the public meeting at the court house at which time the following program was rendered:

"Star Spangled Banner" Audience
Invocation Rev. W. E. VanDyke
"Keep the Home Fires Burning" Audience
Oration Asher Johnson
"America" Audience.
Benediction Rev. Arthur Gregson

Following the exercises at the court house the Service Men formed in line of march at the court house marched down Main street to the corner of East street; countermarched to Byron street; thence to the court house and disbanded. The Smethport Allied Band furnished music for the marchers.

Service women and Civil War veterans rode in automobiles while the soldiers, sailors and marines hiked. It was Smethport's first opportunity to see any considerable number of its service men in line and the sight was an inspiring one and many were the expressions of thankfulness that so many of these fine young men came back to us.

The town was quite extensively decorated for the occasion, while the dining room at the M. E. church, court house and Lyceum showed the touch of artistic hands.

The next important event was the banquet to service men which was served in the basement of the M. E. church. The menu included

Oyster Cocktail	Soda Waters
Pickles	Celery
Olives.
Roast Turkey	Cranberry Sauce
Mashed Potatoes
Baked Squash
Cabbage Salad
Hot Rolls	Coffee
Apple Pie	Vanilla Ice Cream
Cigars	Cigarettes

Captain Melville M. Gillett was toastmaster on this happy occasion. Burgess Warley Gifford delivered a short address of welcome, which met with fitting response from Capt. William A. Ostrander.

The toastmaster called upon various other guests who responded with pleasing remarks.

The dance at the Lyceum concluded the day's program. Each service man was requested to invite two ladies and as a consequence the crowd was composed of those nearest and dearest and a very enjoyable time was the result. Quirk's orchestra furnished inspiring music. The dance program follows:

1. Whiz Bang.
2. G. I. Can.
3. Jerry.
4. Big Bertha.
5. Sea Bags.
6. Duds.
7. French 75.
8. Box Car.
9. One-For-Five.
10. Moaning Liza.
11. T-N-T.

CLINTON V. CLARK

Pte. Clark from Smethport is to be welcomed. He was in the fighting near Chateau Thierry, was struck by a piece of shrapnel and badly wounded in the foot. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. H. Clark of Smethport.

ALFONSO MARTINI

Wounded in the fighting in the Verdun sector. Was the first man to be drafted from this district and the last to be mustered out. He spent over a year in various hospitals but his injuries leave him permanently disabled. He lives at Kushequa.

12. Minnenwerfers.
13. Jack Johnson.
14. Heavies.

"Go as far as you like. No M. P's.

The dance was surely a fitting climax to the day's proceedings and there is not the slightest question but that the boys thoroughly enjoyed themselves. It was their own dance attended by the people they wished to have present, and no detail of arrangement was neglected in making ready for enjoyment.

Service men were invited to attend the Eldred-Smethport high school football game immediately after the parade and many of them availed themselves of this invitation and witnessed a game well worth seeing. Smethport could not hit the pace that downed Bradford 41th well along towards the close of the game. During the first and second periods Eldred scored three touchdowns, but after that Smethport goal line was not endangered. Smethport scored a touchdown and over anxiety which caused fumbles lost two more for them, but they made a game fight against a strong team and the 18 to 6 score is no great discredit to them.

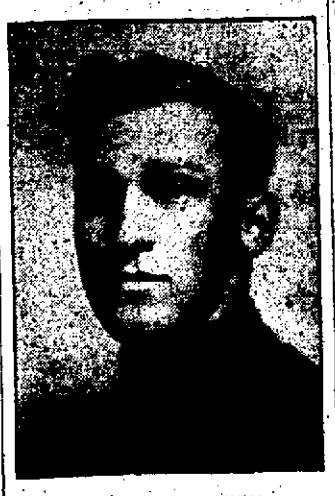
GIRL MURDERED.

Victim of shooting alleged to have been done by a former sweetheart whose love she spurned, Susie Mark aged 16 of Johnsonburg, lies dead in the Ridgway hospital, while Brune Rizzo, alleged slayer is held in custody in Beaver Falls.

The shooting occurred in Johnsonburg at a late hour Saturday night on a street crowded with shoppers.



JAMES R. SCOWDEN

Killed in action while with the American forces engaged in breaking the Hindenburg line, Sunday, September, 29, 1918. Sergeant Hans A. Benson of Colegrove was wounded so badly at the same time that his right arm had to be amputated. Private Scowden was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Scowden of Farmers Valley.

THREE TEACHERS WERE VICTIMS OF THIEVES

Sneak thieves entered the rooms of school teacher guests at the Wright house last week and three of them report having had money stolen from them. Miss Bessie Crosson of Kane was the heaviest loser as $25 belonging to her is missing. She occupied a room with two other teachers and is not quite sure at what hour the money was taken or if the room door was locked all the time that it was unoccupied. Rena Cass and Celia Shaler of Ludlow also report having lost money, the former $5.00 and the latter some change in silver. Landlord J. S. Hull immediately notified officers of the law and a most rigid investigation was started which is still being carried out.

During the past six months numerous cases of petty robbery have occurred. There is hardly ever a public gathering held without some complaint of loss of money or personal property from some of those in attendance. The Wright House robbery was an especially bold piece of work as the culprits must have taken big chances of being caught in the act. Investigators are after the sneak thieves and there may be more to publish about this case in the near future.

INFANT SON DIED

Ernest Frederick, two-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Peterson of Olean, died Friday morning at 6:30 o'clock. The remains were brought to the home of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Nourse of Keating township, where the funeral was held at 2 p. m. Sunday, the Rev. Arthur Gregson officiating. This was the only child and the parents and grandparents have the sincere sympathy of all in the loss they have sustained.

HERBERT SMITH

Held up a German charge with a machine gun after six comrades had been killed around him and was himself wounded. Young Smith's whole career has been one of adventure. He has been awarded five medals for different acts of bravery. He is a son of Mrs. Martin Doubles of Crosby and came home from the war with an English wife. They have one child.

DEATH OF MRS. CHAMPLAIN

Sunday morning, November 9, 1919 occurred the death of Mrs. America Champlain of Coryville, widow of the late Asa Champlain, who preceded her to the Great Beyond about three months ago. Mrs. Champlain has been in poor health for the past year and Wednesday of last week suffered a stroke of paralysis.

She is survived by two sons, two daughters, several grandchildren and great grandchildren who are left to mourn the loss which can never be filled.

Mrs. Champlain was well known and highly respected throughout the county and her death will be sincerely mourned by all.

The funeral services were held at her late home in Coryville Tuesday at two o'clock and burial made at the Frisbee cemetery.

NATION-WIDE CAMPAIGN OF THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Detroit, Michigan., Nov. 8. H. P. Davison, of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. and directing head of the American Red Cross, gives emphatic endorsement to the Nation-Wide Campaign of the Episcopal Church, in a letter made public here today. A noteworthy feature of the letter is that it is written largely from the standpoint of a business man in the Diocese of New York where many business men have joined in the Every Name Campaign which is being conducted here as a part of the Nation-Wide Campaign. From this view point, Mr. Davidson endorses not only the spiritual objects of the campaign, but after a careful examination of the plans he expresses the opinion that "they the sound and logical and, if faithfully carried out, should lead without doubt to a successful outcome."

Mr. Davison's letter is addressed to Rt. Rev. Arthur S. Lloyd, D. D; President of the Board of Missions, and Chairman of the Nation-Wide Campaign Committee. In his letter Mr. Davison says;

"I desire to take this opportunity to express to you my deep feelings of thankfulness that the Church realizes in a large way the great opportunities for service which are before her."

"We were able, during the war period, to create a great world-wide organization for relief of the suffering resultant from the conflict; and under the noble impulses which were awakened, there was mustered into the service of humanity a vast amount of hitherto latent will to serve, without which the success attained by the American Red Cross and other welfare organizations could not have been achieved. Now that the war is over, that will to serve must not be permitted to relax, especially since the world is facing problems scarcely less vital or of less potential influence upon our civilization than those which were settled on the field of battle, and many of these problems are incapable of solution except in the light of the teachings of Christianity. To grip and hold permanently for the service of the nation and humanity this force which the exegencies of the war brought into play is a task for which the Church is peculiarly fitted."

"I have looked into the plans for the organization of the Campaign and am glad to say that in my opinion they are sound and logical and, if faithfully carried out, should lead without doubt to a successful outcome."

"The Red Cross, you will understand, intends to labor on in peace as in war, but it welcomes the fellowship of the Church in the field which is large enough for all and where there is an especial task for the Church, which I believe your Nation-Wide Campaign is well designed to equip it to discharge."

The following named persons have been appointed by Rev. W. E. VanDyke, Rector of St. Luke's Church, as a Parish Committee, to conduct an "Every Member Canvass" of all communicants of the Parish.

Chairman Geo. W. Mitchell, Lincoln Green, Dora Keenan, Guy B. Mayo, Esq., Mrs. Emma McCandless, Mrs. Guy McCoy, Mrs. W. H. Morrison, Mrs. S. F. Redfield Hon. H. H. Redfield, E. A. Studholme.

The following named persons will be known as "Information Men."

F. D. Gallup Esq., Thos. H. Morrison Esq., E. G. Potter Esq.

Each member so appointed on the Parish Committee will act as Captain of a team of three or more communicants of their own choosing, by whom the campaign will be conducted.

TALK ON THRIFT

W. Harrison Walker of Bellefonte, Group Chairman of the War Savings Division and Federal District No. 3 addressed the McKean County Teachers Institute last week on "Thrift".

Outside of Bradford and Kane there are 110 schools in McKean County of which more than 90 have organized War Savings Societies. The object of this organization is to instill in every pupil the desire to save something each week, no matter how small.

Mr. Walker said that the teaching of "Thrift" by our Government was the first great thing given to the people by their Government. The speaker showed that the teaching of Thrift in our public schools meant more than the saving of pennies by the pupils to purchase Thrift Stamps or War Saving Stamps. But the teacher should caution the child who wastes lead pencils and tablets. The individual waste is small but take it over the State it would amount to a large sum which the taxpayer must carry.

Many excellent things were mentioned in the address which we would like to give to our readers but owing to lack of space we can only give four points that Mr. Walker brought out in his very interesting and forceable talk, which were as follows:—

First:—Every person should be induced to put aside as his first obligation, and before he spends anything, a part of his income for future use.

Second:—Invest that part he puts aside in a safe security, paying reasonable interest, such as war savings and treasury savings certificates.

Third:—Use the rest of his income so as to make every penny buy something really needed and which has a full penny's value.

Fourth:—Use everything that is bought with as much care as if it were money itself.

The purpose of this great movement is to make savers of money, to teach our people the value of money how to use it and how to invest it.

BRADFORD HI DEFEATED.

The Smethport high school football team discovered themselves with startling suddenness in the game against Bradford last Saturday and as a consequence romped away with the game by a score of 13 to 6. Bradford was played off its feet almost from the start, the Bradford touchdown coming as a rare piece of luck during the final quarter. It would hardly be fair to point out individual instances of brilliant play as every man in the Smethport machine played the game for all there was in him and the result was a well-earned victory. Those who had observed the work of the Smethport team in previous games were sure that the material was there for a hard fighting outfit and it seemed suddenly to dawn upon the Smethport boys Saturday that they were just as good as the other fellows—and then proceeded to demonstrate that they were better.

COAL STRIKE ENDED.

Representatives of the striking miners agreed Monday to comply with a mandate of United States District Judge A. B. Anderson and rescinded the strike order. For some hours grave danger threatened as organized labor through its leaders pledged support to the miners and for a short time the situation was not pleasant to contemplate.

The conservative element finally prevailed however and the strike order was recalled.

Representatives of the strikers and operators have been called to Washington where an attempt will be made to adjust their differences.

HAPPILY MARRIED.

Miss Edith Welch of Kane formerly of Smethport and Galen Dodge of Kane, a former member of Co. E. 112th Regt., were united in marriage November 8, 1919, at Warren, Pa., by Rev. Swisher, pastor of the Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Dodge will reside in Kane, Pa.

CONFERENCE AT ST. LUKE'S

NEW OVERLAND FOUR

Overland 4, the new car of light weight construction for which the public has been waiting since its introduction was first rumored at the automobile shows about two years ago, was placed on exhibition in Overland salesrooms in a thousand cities, towns, and hamlets of the United States. The company's dealers, from Maine to California and from Washington to Florida, now have on display one or more of the new models described as embodying "the greatest improvement in riding comfort since the introduction of pneumatic tires."

This improvement is the use of three point suspension springs. Unusually graceful body design, Overland 4 makes a splendid impression on the visitor. It was this new spring suspension, however, which absorbed motorist attention at the salesrooms. It is a combination of two principles that have been used to greatest advantages in automobile construction; First, that of cantilever springs; second, the flexible three-point construction.

The luxurious riding comfort these springs furnish the car was immediately understood and appreciated. It is this feature which gives to the new Overland car, designed for light weight, that degree of riding comfort and security hitherto possible only in high-priced heavier cars.

But this is only one of many features in Overland 4 which back the Willys-Overland Company's claim to success in giving the public "a new standard of riding comfort."

The actual creation of Overland 4 began more than two years ago. The last ... years have been devoted to testing and perfecting each part of the car. Back of its development stand ten years of successful manufacturing and engineering experience in giving the public good motor cars. For the immediate development and production of Overland 4, John N. Willys has concentrated the vast resources of the Willys-Overland Company. Production will be on a scale which will assure the greatest economies in manufacturing.

Zerell M. Olmstead were united in marriage by Rev. F. C. Platz Saturday evening, November 1st at the home of the groom, the beautiful ring service being used. The bride was attired in taupe silk with shoes to match. A wedding dinner was served Sunday at the home of the brides parents, only the immediate relatives being present. The young couple will reside at the Olmstead residence. Their many friends wish them a long and happy life.

Joseph P. McRae of Olean died Friday. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McRae of this place and was 27 years of age. He was a boiler maker in the Pennsylvania Railroad shops at Olean. The funeral services were held at the St. Johns Church at Olean, Father John F. Gardner officiating, and interment was made in the St. Bonaventure Cemetery.

The actual work of constructing the silk mill was begun Monday and has been progressing as fast as unfavorable conditions will permit. Most of the excavating is done and forms are being constructed for the concrete work. A large amount of brick and other material has arrived and is being unloaded on the grounds.

A. O. Wicks and Buell Stang shot a large bear near the Wicks Barn on Comes Creek Monday night. This is the first bear reported shot in this immediate vicinity this year. The bear shot had been killing sheep in the Comes Creek district for a number of weeks. There are also several other sheep killing bears in that section and farmers thereabouts are hoping to get all of them.

Mrs. Katherine Sullivan and two sons of Smethport were week end guests at the home of Mrs. Margaret Sullivan on Chesnut street.

Katherine Franzen, who has employment at Smethport, was a week end visitor at her home here.—Reporter Argus.

Ancient Knightly Order.

The order of Knights of Dannebrog was established in 1219 by Valdemar II, according to Danish tradition, as a memorial of a victory over the Esthonians, won by the appearance in the sky of a red banner bearing a white cross. Historically the order dates back to 1671 when it was founded by Christian V. It was originally restricted to 50 knights and was family or court decoration. In 1808 it was made an order of merit by Frederick VI and is awarded only for distinguished and meritorious services.

The insignia of the knighthood is a white enameled Danish cross with red and gold borders, bearing in the center the letter W and on the four arms the inscription "God og Konge" (for God and King). The ribbon is white with red edging. The rank is an honorary one and entitles the recipient to use the title "Sir." The rank and title are not hereditary.

Snaring Birds of Paradise.

To obtain the much prized feathers the New Guinea natives set out for the forest, knowing that the bird of paradise seeks to court all his rivals in the close vicinity of the pole. If they can find no trace of the desired birds they start cutting in excellent imitation of the shrill cry of the bird of paradise to its mate. This ruse is usually successful, and a few shots fix it only to be snared or shot down with arrows.

In mating season the male bird dances before the female he desires to make to display his beautiful feathers, and at such a time so absorbed are the birds in their own affairs that large numbers are easily taken by the wily native.—Savannah Morning News.

ELDRED

Mrs. Katheryn McMann, relict of the late Thomas McMann, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Bergquist, at Okmulgee, Okla., last Tuesday, October 28th after a four days' illness of stomach trouble. Deceased was born in Tipperary, Ireland 62 years ago, and came to America 40 years ago, locating at Sartwell, where her family was reared. She was a woman who held the highest esteem of a large circle of friends. Since the death of her husband about 12 years ago, she had been spending much of her time with her children, and had gone to Okmulgee about three weeks ago to spend the winter, after spending the summer here. She leaves to mourn her death, two daughters: Mrs. Charles Bergquist and Mrs. Arthur Elsert; and three sons: Frank, James and Thomas all of Okmulgee; one sister, Mrs Wm. McGavisk of Eldred township; and four brothers: John Dunn, of Tipperary, Ireland; Thomas Dunn of Galeton, Pa.; Patrick Dunn of Eldred and James Dunn who is in the British army. The funeral services were held in Okmulgee, Thursday, and remains brought to Eldred last Saturday, burial being made at Sartwell Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Clarence Odell, Ray Wainman and Guy Galusha left yesterday for Denver Colorado, where they will carve their future out of the wild and wolly West. The three young men are all of first class character and will make a mark in their fields of endeavor. The idea of going west was necessary on the part of Clarence Odell on advice of a physician. He has been in poor health for some time and last week he consulted a specialist in Buffalo who advised a change of climate. The other boys seized the opportunity to go with him.—Eagle.

BETULA

Wm. Wetmore of Wright's brought a load of farm produce to this place the first of the week and sold it.

Miss Aleyne Nesbit and Dutch Razey were Smethport visitors Saturday afternoon.

Raymond Grinolds spent a few days hunting in Potter Co. last week.

Mrs. Nettie Marsh of Crosby visited her daughter Mrs. Grinolds last Wednesday.

Mr. Moffit of Galeton was in this place Tuesday.

I. E. Bailey is able to resume his duties about the store after a weeks illness.

Joe Lounzi went to Turtle Point one day last week to have cider made.

Roy Palmatier came up from "York State" and visited his parents Sunday.

Verne Marsh of Crosby autoed to this place Sunday.

Quackery Sometimes Effective.

"Faith and foolishness will cure any disease," says the cynic, and judging by some instances of mirraculous wholesale cures, there seems to be some ground for the assertion.

There is the historical episode of the prince of Orange, for instance, who during one of his campaigns, cured those of his soldiers who were dying of the scurvy by a piece of quackery.

With his doctors, who were in the secret, he said he had procured a medicine—really a decoction of camomile, wormwood and camphor—of the greatest rarity and value from the East. It was so strong that two or three drops would impart a healing virtue to a gallon of water. The men took the medicine with faith and cheerful faces, and, so historians tell us, grew well rapidly.

Spoiled Her Pleasure.

Husband—Have you had a pleasant afternoon?

Wife—No; Mrs. Wilkinson and Mrs. Jenkinson came together and left together. I had a lot of things about Mrs. Wilkinson I wanted to tell Mrs. Jenkinson, and I had a lot of things to tell Mrs. Wilkinson, but, of course, when they were both together it was no use.

A Lady in Chicago Telegraphs for Rat-Snap

Read Mrs. Phillips' wire: "Youell's Exterminator Co., Westfield, N. J., Rush $3 worth of RAT-SNAP." Later received following letter: "RAT-SNAP arrived. It rid our house of rats in no time. Just moved here from Pa., where I used RAT-SNAP with great results." Three sizes, 25c, 50c $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by B. T. Garlick, J. A. Lindholm, Hogarth Pharmacy.

McKean County Miner

HARRY L. BACKUS, Owner.
ROSS K. KNAPP, Editor and Manager.

Entered at the Post Office at Smethport, Pa., as second-class matter

Smethport, Thursday, November 13, 1919.

To save coal 65 passenger trains have been cut from the schedules of railroads entering Chicago. Great restrictions have also been placed upon ships coming in American ports.

—Most people are shocked at Henry Ford's idea of having the Bible rewritten in simple English, but you can't blame Henry for wanting to know what it's all about.—Philadelphia No. American.

The MINER is informed by interested persons that the reason no public Red Cross drive was instituted in Smethport was due to the fact that a fund of $2,000 was found available to be turned into membership renewals. It was decided by persons having control of that fund that as Smethport was pretty thoroughly "driven" for various other purposes that this money be used. Consequently it was so used making the townspeople 100 per cent Red Cross members.

G. Scott Smith of Kane, Republican county chairman, can certainly feel well satisfied with the manner in which Kane supported the Republican ticket. Several candidates breathed a lot easier when the returns from Kane commenced to come in Tuesday night of last week.

New Jersey has elected a wet governor and a wet legislature and according to newspaper reports the state authorities will not be overzealous in cooperating with government authorities to enforce the federal dry laws. Plans to make New Jersey as "wet as the Atlantic Ocean" are said to be in the making.

The difference in the wet and dry vote in Ohio this year and last raises the suspicion that some cellars have gone dry in the past year. A year ago Ohio voted overwhelmingly dry, while this year a near wet victory was the result. On the face of the returns it is indicated that some hitherto dry citizens must be getting thirsty.

The teachers institute just closed was one of the most sucessful, entertaining and instructive meetings of its kind ever held in the county. It is understood that a large majority of the Kane teachers desired to come to Smethport, but to gratify private grievances the story was circulated that Smethport could not accomodate the teachers from that town in addition to the number expected from other points. This report was false. Smethport can comfortably board and lodge all the teachers of the county whenever it becomes necessary to do so; this statement includes Bradford as well as the Kane teachers.

The attempt of the federal government to compel the officials of the miners' union to recall the orders of a nation-wide strike is characterized by the American Federation of Labor as a proceeding "so autocratic as to stagger the human mind." After a four hours meeting Sunday the statement was issued by the federation that the miners' walkout was justified, and promised the strikers the support of organized labor and asked the aid and endorsemen for it from the general public. There is no question but that public sentiment is overwhelmingly against the strikers because the result of the strike so directly concerns the comfort of the people. The average individual is so constituted that he cannot sympathize very heartily with the direct cause of his discomfort and the rights and wrongs of the matter are not viewed from an unbiased standpoint. Seemingly there was hope that the great coal strike was in process of amicable adjustment until the sweeping orders from a federal court again aroused antagonism among the miners and now the situation has assumed the serious aspect of open rebellion against the government.

New York may eventually become an oil-burning city if plans now being considered are found practicable. Several of the large buildings have already installed oil-burning heating systems and their reports are so enthusiastic that a corporation to supply the city fuel oil is in contemplation. The oil would be piped through the city the same as gas or water with a meter arrangement to gauge the amount used by consumers. Difficulty and higher prices in the matter of a coal supply is hastening the adoption of this new fuel arrangement.

ELEMENTARY TRIGONOMETRY

Labor, rising, risen, almost triumphant,
The leaven of the loaf,
Lifting, making the whole possible.
Labor, sinews of the frame,
The indispensable force.

Money, capital, buffeted, combated,
Fought as an enemy,
Driven, loudly derided,
Capital; blood of the body,
The indispensable matter.

Thought, brains, hidden and quiet,
Silent and seldom visible,
Doubted and scoffed at, stabbed at by blindness,
Management, brains of the business,
The indispensable hand.

Capital, Management, Labor, combatant—
Which is the most important leg
Of a three-legged stool?

J. D. McMaster,
In New York Tribune.

Approximately $60,000,000 was raised in Pennsylvania during 1917 and 1918 for war welfare work, while the patriotic contributions of the Keystone State citizens, if taken over the period beginning with the outbreak of the European conflict in 1914, would add probably another ten million dollars to the total. The Pennsylvania War History Commisson, in making public a brief summary of war welfare work in Pennsylvania, utilizes only the statistics and data at hand in its files in the Pennsylvania Historical Society Building, Philadelphia. On a basis of $60,000,000, the per capita donation of individual in the State of war relief funds of all descriptions would be $6.82. As Pennsylvania's 8,798,067 inhabitants (the Census Bureau estimate of July 1, 1918) were almost a unit in physical aid the exact value of the State's war welfare work can never be estimated accurately. The value of services rendered to every existing form of welfare work is beyond computation.

THE FUNCTION OF CRITICISM

In the midst of all the brave words now being uttered on the proposed policy of internationalism, it is well that we can have criticism, sharp and keen, to pierce the bubble of humbug. The very loudest advocates of the Paris Covenant do not believe it will prevent war. They are really working to commit us irrevocably to the side of the British empire in the next war.

Criticism is valuable if it shows this. It has a greater value in pointing out the fact that the historic foreign policy of the republic is an adequate substitute for the League. We have tried to emphasize the fact that the supporters of Americanism have a constructive policy. Their aim is to build up a sentiment which will be true to the best tradition of the nation. We too wish to build but we prefer to use the foundation laid by the fathers.

We think the President's criticism of his opponents is only destructive, because he never admits the possibility of compromise. The most hopeless feature of our American political life is the failure of our leaders to see the possibility of reconciling opposing views.—Dubuque Times-Journal.

The home coming celebration Tuesday was a credit to its promoters and will be long remembered by service men and citizens. While the criticism has been raised that the welcome was belated, much was gained by waiting until this time for a community demonstration. Almost every service man from this district was home, or at least has finished his term of service, consequently there were no regrets for absent ones—except those who will never return.

There is no escape for Congress now in straddling and pussyfooting. There can be no dodging of responsibility by the administration. This is not a time for congress to dabble with half-hearted remedies or for the President to procrastinate or put forth untried theories. This is a time when Americans of the American stock, who know this country and its institutions who love their country and their flag, will get together and demolish all movements, domestic or foreign born, that threaten the existence of the government.—Washington Post.

A number of towns in this section of the state will undoubtedly be represented by professional ball teams next summer. There seems to be considrable talk of reviving the interstate league with Oil City, Warren, Kane, Bradford, Johnsonburg, St. Marys, Ridgway and Olean as a proposed circuit.

JUST JOTTINGS

Some women must look back to the days of the war with happy memories—days when Uncle Sam sent them their husbands' money without their even having to fight for it.

Six Chicago girls went to school last week with stockings rolled down and frescoes painted on their knees. Their teachers said "shocking." What their parents said is unprintable. The boys said "great."

It was before the great thirst descended on the land. A prominent citizen went home rather late one night. He traversed the front steps without mishap, found the key-hole without trouble and reached the interior of his home in safety. A minute later his wife, upstairs, heard a loud crash and anxiously inquired the reason. A tense voice replied: "Don't be frightened m'dear, but I had to teach them dam goldfish not to snap at me when I come in."

"I have a perfect right to wear my skirts as short as I choose," remarked a dashing young school teacher while on her way to institute one day last week. Whereupon the coarse brute who overheard remarked, "Yes, and a perfect fool, too, I'll tell the world."

Remember when you were a boy and resolved to grow up fast so you could gain great riches capturing desperate criminals and collecting the rewards? Them was the happy days.

Reading a York state paper from our old stamping grounds we were rather startled at this item: "Fred Wolcott took an automobile load of chickens to Buffalo Friday night." We know Fred a married man with kiddies but suddenly remembered that he runs a poultry farm and felt relieved.

Someway or other that method of renewing youth discovered by a French scientist of transferring the glands of apes to humans brings to mind the ancient warning, "don't monkey with the band wagon."

"Just Jottings" will henceforth be a more or less permanent feature. In a printing office the odds and ends that are of no further use are tossed into a receptacle called a "hell-box." This department will be the hell-box of the paper. Some weeks there may not be a sufficient accumulation of this sort of junk to bother printing it, while on other occasions there may be a heap of it. A fool column has become almost a necessity on every newspaper and as long as all the fool stuff can be kept in one column the publisher congratulates himself.

The New Motor Car

Overland

TRADE MARK REG.

The Greatest Improvement In Riding Comfort Since The Introduction of Pneumatic Tires

HERE is a brand new type of car. It solves the problem which has baffled automotive engineers—how to combine riding comfort with light weight and economy.

Our new Three-Point Cantilever Springs make this possible.

These are the first springs of their kind and they are made of chrome vanadium steel. They are exclusive with Overland.

Because of these springs, Overland 4 combines the riding qualities of large heavy, expensive, long wheelbase cars, together with the advantages and economy of small light cars.

With 100-inch wheelbase, Overland 4 has the luxurious riding ease of 130-inch Springbase.

The exclusive, Three-Point Cantilever Springs cushion the car so that it rides well on all roads: they reduce choppy rebounds and side swaying, protect the car from road shocks and prolong its life, minimize twisting or racking of frame and body, enable the car to hold the road better.

The car and passengers ride smoothly as though floating, free from road shocks that the springs ward off.

But this new riding comfort, possible only with these Three-Point Cantilever Springs, is but one of the advantages of Overland 4.

Its light weight makes possible great economy of gasoline and tires.

High quality materials insure durability. All vital parts of the front axle and steering gear and all highly stressed gears and shafts for driving the car are made of alloy steel.

The equipment list of Overland 4 is high grade, including Auto-Lite Starter and Lighting System—Electric Horn—Marshall Divan Upholstery Springs—Demountable Rims—Three Speed Transmission—Slanting Rain Vision Windshield—Tillotson Carburetor—U. S. L. Batteries and many other high quality conveniences.

In every respect Overland 4 is a quality car. The body is all steel, all enamel, the brightest, hardest, most lasting finish.

Overland 4 has been tested for two years and more than 250,000 miles over the Rocky Mountains, prairies, through deep mud and scorching deserts—through quick, sharp climatic changes. As a result of these tests we were able to judge the car's performance under every condition and to perfect it before offering it to the public.

There is no previous car of any size or price to adequately compare with the character of service Overland 4 introduces.

The farther you ride in it the more you will appreciate it. Come in, see the car and ask for booklet. The demand will be greater than the supply for a long time.

Overland 4 Touring, $845; Roadster, $845; Coupe, $1325; Sedan, $1375. Prices f. o. b. Toledo.

GAME INTERESTS ALL RACES

Baseball Knows No Distinction of Nationality, Nor Does It Recognize the Color Line.

There isn't anything that can draw together the races, nationalities and religions beliefs like the good, old-fashioned American game of baseball.

In a game played on the Fourth of July an American who witnessed it in describing one of the plays says: A batter whose name showed him to be of Polish descent, had reached first base. A German went to bat. A pitcher with a French name pitched the ball and the German knocked a high fly. A Jew ran after it and dropped it. He picked the ball up and threw it to an Englishman at second. The Englishman threw the ball to an Irishman at first and a double play was made and the German and the Pole were declared out.

From where the spectator sat he could have reached out his hand and touched a German, a Russian, a Jew, an Italian and a negro. Several negroes were seated together watching the game. The umpire made a decision. One of the negroes did not agree with the decision and he said the "umpire" was "rotten." He'd bet $2 the "umpire" was wrong, and he took $2 from his pocket. An American in soldier's uniform took the bet and covered the $2. The soldier explained the rule to the negro, and the negro said:

"Them is me dat's right, after all."

Then the American put his own $2 back in his pocket and returned the $2 he had won on the bet back to the negro. What other athletic game could be played in this world with such representation of peoples as are to be found at a baseball game? The best of it all is that the soldiers having introduced it overseas, it now promises to be an all-over-the-world game.—Hartford Courant.

PROFIT SHARING NOT MODERN

Scheme Has Been in Operation Since 1829, Though Really Only Active in Last Forty Years.

Profit sharing has been used in various forms since at least 1820, being most active in the last 40 years, Park Mathewson writes in the Magazine of Wall Street. Pioneers in profit sharing, such as Lever Bros. of Port Sunlight, Eng., and Cambridge, Mass.; N. O. Nelson Manufacturing company of the model town of Leclaire near St. Louis, Mo.; Procter & Gamble of Ivorydale, O., and numerous other smaller or less known companies have operated on the profit-sharing plan successfully for over a quarter of a century.

As with many other fundamental and social movements, profit sharing clearly came from the old countries, for one of the first successful profit-sharing plans in the United States was founded in Leclaire, Ill., named after the "father of profit sharing," Monsieur Leclaire of Maison Leclaire, Paris, France.

There are many modifications of profit sharing, as laid down in one of the complete and fundamental discussions of the subject printed some forty years ago, and it is well to have in mind the differentiations of the true profit sharing and its various offshoots, such as bonus giving, holiday gifts, production bonus, pensions, welfare work, etc.

"Experience tells us that, roughly speaking, one marriage in three results in divorce," began the chap with the fund of useless irritation.

"Yes," the other chimed in, "and it's the roughly speaking part that causes most of the trouble."

RED CROSS SEALS HELP CHILDREN

Chairman E. J. Stackpole Says Sale Means Health and Happiness to Many.

Harrisburg, Pa.—"The Red Cross Seal saves millions of Americans now living it today," said E. J. Stackpole, chairman of the Pennsylvania State Seal committee, "is an agent of happiness and health. The seal was originated in 1907 by Miss Emily P. Bissell, of Wilmington, Delaware, who learned through Jacob Riis of somewhat similar seals that were sold in Norway for the purpose of raising funds with which to fight tuberculosis.

"Miss Bissell persuaded the American Red Cross to take up the idea with the result that seals were sold in a limited number of communities in 1908. In 1917 the number of seals sold was 180,000,000.

"This year the seals are again on sale, beginning December 1. More than half a billion have been printed for distribution to state and local agents. In addition to the seals 'Health Bonds' in denominations ranging from $5 to $100 are to be sold in lieu of seals to large contributors who do not send out a sufficient quantity of mail in December to make use of all the seals they would like to purchase.

"Pennsylvania, outside of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, is pledged to sell 30,000,000 seals. The national quota is $6,500,000. Eighty per cent. of this money, in round figures, will be expended by local organizations in the fight against tuberculosis.

"The seal sale is more than a charity. It represents a constructive work. The sale means health and happiness to countless children and the children must be our chief concern. The tuberculosis figures were appalling in 1917. Conditions have grown worse rather than better since that time. Every three minutes some one dies from tuberculosis in this country.

"Sir William Osler says:

"'The battle against tuberculosis is not a doctor's affair; it belongs to the entire public!'

"The Christmas Red Cross Seal is one of the agencies through which the public can go into the battle against the white plague in an effective way."

THE CHILDREN'S SEAL

The Red Cross seal of 1919 has a particular appeal for children. Santa Claus, pictured in red with white fringes on his outfit and a white beard, stands with a toy pack at the top of a chimney ready to descend. The child knows what it means when Santa Claus comes down the chimney. A very important part of the work carried on with the money realized from the sale of Christmas Seals is the training of children in better health habits. This will mean the saving of a great many lives. It has been proven that a large percentage of children become infected with the tuberculosis germs and unless they are taught to make and keep themselves strong and healthy many of them will die before attaining manhood or womanhood.

So the Christmas seal of 1919 gives a "Healthy and a Happy New Year" in a real measure.

GOVERNOR ASSISTS WHITE PLAGUE FIGHT

Governor William C. Sproul, in writing to Dr. Thomas McCrae, president of the Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, strongly approves the Red Cross Seal Sale, saying:

"Dear Dr. McCrae:

"I have your kind favor of several days ago, in reply me to act as the Honorary Chairman of the committee in charge of your coming Red Cross Seal Drive, and assure you that it will give me pleasure to serve in that, or any other capacity that will assist you in your relentless campaign for the prevention of tuberculosis.

"Very truly yours,
(Signed.) "WM. C. SPROUL."

WONDERFUL ANIMAL, THE GNU

And Voice Would Seem to Be Not the Least of His Remarkable Qualities.

Few people know what a satisfactory animal is the gnu. Quite a number of hoofed animals, like the ibex and the sacred ox, are mere fireside combinations of Burbankism, but the gnu has qualities all his own. His head is homely as an unpainted barn—flat nose and very broad mouth and ears misshapen and uncouth. His body is that of an exceedingly powerful pony, with strong neck and rakish tail. His galvanic energy puts to shame the glorious abandon of a cat on a tin roof.

When I arrive before his inclosure he has usually retired to the shed in which he sleeps and stands in the doorway with far-away eyes. Efforts to entice him forth are futile. I turn at last as if to go, and as I move he bursts forth with the most heathenish cry that ever clattered from an animal throat. If it resembles anything, it is the french klaxon that warns of an impending gas attack—a series of staccato shrieks which would shake the teeth from a band saw. I don't see how he can stand the noise he makes. Arm a rabbit with the voice of a gnu and lions will slink from his path.

Reaching the bars of his inclosure in three or four astounding leaps, the gnu halts, with head averted and feet wide apart, ignoring me literally. When I move to right or left he remains motionless until 15 feet are between us; then he closes the distance with a bound, shrieks terribly twice or thrice, and once more affects to be utterly oblivious of my presence. When finally I leave him the clatter of his fearful voice pursues me for hundreds of feet, drowning all other sounds.—Atlantic Monthly.

HONOR HELD BY QUAKER CITY

First American Edition of the Hebrew Scriptures Was Put in Type in Philadelphia.

The first American edition of the Hebrew Scriptures was put in type at Philadelphia by William Fry.

The first translation of the Scriptures into English by a Jewish scholar in America was that of Isaac Leeser of Philadelphia in 1853, and the first English version prepared by a group of Jewish scholars is that of the Jewish Publication society of America, Philadelphia, 1917.

One of the most important and widely used revisions of the Rheims-Douay version was that of Archbishop Kendrick of Philadelphia, 1851-62.

Ben Franklin didn't think the language of the King James version sufficiently up to date to suit the liberal of his time, and he tried his improving hand on the Book of Job with this result:

"And it being levee day in heaven, all God's nobility came to court to pay their compliments before him; and Satan also appeared in the circle, as one of the ministry. And God said to Satan: You have been a long time absent; where were you? And Satan answered: I have been at my country seat, and in different places visiting my friends."

In the Philippines.

In 1917 the Philippine Islands experienced two typhoons, while one hundred and fifty earthquakes were reported from different parts. The damage done was slight and the casualties few. They were not so fortunate in Formosa, where two destructive typhoons were experienced in July and August, and two in Japan in October. The appearance of the water hyacinth is reported from several places in the Philippines, and the secretary of agriculture reports that, unless legislation provides for its destruction wherever found, all still or sluggish waters will soon be impassable to craft or logs and even river steamers. The necessity for increasing the working establishment in the forests of the Philippines, if forest produce is to be preserved, is becoming an urgent necessity, and it is pointed out that in Java, Japan and British India forest officers are employed to a much larger extent than in the Philippines.

Keep Up the Morale.

The big thing in life's battles is the morale. You may have the men and the guns, but if the men lack the ginger they are impediments to attainment. It is easy to do things when you are on the winning side. The trouble begins to brew when things go wrong. Anybody can go with the current. It's breasting the tide that shows where strength lies, and muscular strength is the least side of it. When the brain is right and nerve control dependable you can make machines do muscular tasks. There are few things that man's ingenuity has not submitted to mechanical control. So the problem of today is to keep the head right. It means more than keen thinking. There are men of the keenest intellect who need the constant urge of right morale.

Plant All Animals Hate.

A most interesting plant is the Virginia wild ginger. There are several other species, as far south as Florida and northward to Connecticut. The plant grows in very hilly and wooded places, says the American Forestry Magazine, and is easily recognized by its kidney-shaped leaves and curious purplish brown flowers. These flowers grow one to a stem. No living thing will eat the bitter leaves, and you rarely see the flower unless you hunt for it, for it hides itself out of sight if possible.
